Software Developer

The One Paint system is a Ruby on Rails and Angular 1.6 application which manages orders, matches and mixes paint, and integrates with pricing, customer, order and other services.

- Developed the application using front-end technologies such as angular-typescript-ES6, NPM, JavaScript, Html5, css3, sass
- Developed the backend using Ruby on Rails with Active Record as an ORM
- Implemented RESTful Web services to expose API endpoints to the consumers using Rails
- Utilized model-view-controller (MVC) pattern throughout the entire application
- Performed unit testing using Jasmine, Karma, and RSpec; Protractor is utilized to perform end to end testing
- Responsible for addressing issues related to One Paint and work on design specifications
- Followed Agile Extreme Programming (XP) and pair programming methodology in the project
- Used Jenkins for continuous integration and deployment of the application
